Achievement Criteria

Achievement	Achievement with Merit	Achievement with Excellence
Consistently demonstrate social responsibility through applying a social responsibility model in physical activity.	Consistently demonstrate a high level of social responsibility through applying a social responsibility model in physical activity.	Consistently demonstrate an outstanding level of social responsibility through applying a social responsibility model in physical activity and in wider contexts.

Learner Instructions

You will demonstrate, and reflect on, social responsibility while participating in physical activity and support this with ongoing reflection over a minimum of 6 sessions. Your Learning Leader will also observe you throughout the unit of work and provide supporting evidence that shows you are able to demonstrate an outstanding level of social responsibility (Level 5) outside the classroom.

To begin with, you need to become familiar with Don Hellison's Model of Social Responsibility (Resource A). Once you have built knowledge and understanding of this, you will take action to demonstrate social responsibility in a range of challenging physical activity situations. After each session, you will need to reflect to provide further evidence. You can use the reflection logbook questions provided in this booklet or you could consider the below questions using a format of your choosing (e.g. blog, vlog, video, animation):

- What level of social responsibility do you think you demonstrated in the activity and why? (what are the behaviours associated with this level and relate this to your experience in the activity with examples). What examples do you have to prove this?
- What deliberate acts have you taken to improve/develop since last time?
- How did my behaviours impact others around me? Provide examples.
- What deliberate acts can you take to improve your level of social responsibility in future sessions and why?

As well as self-reflection, it is critical to seek feedback and feedforward from others. Your peers can act as critical friends who might see things that you don't notice. It is vital to take this feedback onboard to help you to be a better version of yourself.

Resource A: Hellison's Model of Social Responsibility

Level	Level of Social Responsibility	Skills/descriptors
5	Beyond the classroom EXCELLENCE	● Try all these goals in other areas of school and life. ● Is a role model. ● Assist others in reaching this level.
4	Helping others and leadership MERIT	● Shows good interpersonal skills (is sensitive towards others, shows care and compassion). ● Listens and responds without being judgemental. ● Helps others when they want help or need it. ● Recognises the needs and feelings of others. ● Shows inner strength (the ability to resist peer pressure and step up as a leader). ● Make sure all players in the group have an equal opportunity to be involved. ● Acknowledges other teams' skills or efforts. ● Proactively applies fair play/honest rules. ● Happily accepts others as part of the group.
3	Self-direction ACHIEVED	● Demonstrates on-task independence (can do the task without the Learning Leader standing over them). ● Sets goals and self-standards. ● Shows the courage to resist peer pressure (focus on achieving what's best for them). ● Is fully involved and active (but not dominating). ● Plays by the rules.
2	Participation and effort NOT ACHIEVED	● Is self-motivated. ● Try their best and never give up. ● Tries new things and persists when the going gets tough. ● Redefines success (it may be achieving a goal, it maybe winning a competition). ● Can take part as directed and improves efforts to contribute independently. ● Participates in games (not fully involved).
1	Respect for the rights and feelings of others NOT ACHIEVED	● Shows self-control (No verbal or physical abuse i.e. name calling). ● Includes everyone (NO intimidation, bullying or hogging equipment). ● Solves conflicts peacefully. ● Does not disrupt the work and play of others.
0	Does not demonstrate social responsibility NOT ACHIEVED	● Does not demonstrate any of the above.
