

Name:

Scenario:
Fiona is only 16 years of age and has moved to a new area and has started at a new school. She has started dating Cameron who is 17 years of age, who also attends the same school. Fiona has told Cameron she no longer wants to date him but wants to remain friends with him. Cameron has told Fiona if she breaks up with him he will share an image she sent him and will no longer be friends. Fiona is unsure if she should break up with Cameron or not.
What are TWO choices in this scenario for Fiona?
A.	B.
What factors are influencing choice A for Fiona?
Describe the personal influences in this choice:
Describe the interpersonal influences in this choice:
Describe the societal influences in this choice:
What factors are influencing choice B for Fiona?
Describe personal influences in this choice:

Describe the interpersonal influences in this choice:

Describe the societal influences in this choice:

Describe each of Fiona's possible consequences and outcomes for each of his choices. These could be positive and/or negative.

Use specific examples on hauora and the model of health te whare tapa whā to support your answers.

Possible consequences on hauora for choice A:

Possible consequences on hauora for choice B:

Describe the best decision you believe should be made in the scenario and discuss the reasons WHY.
Use examples of influencing factors and possible consequences on hauora and the model of health te whare tapa whā to support your answer.

Explain HOW these influencing factors and possible consequences, (discussed in task above) interrelate to collectively influence the decision (meaning how has one impacted the other).
Use hauora and the model of health te whare tapa whā to support your answers.

Evaluate the significance and potential long term impacts the decision you have selected will have on Fiona's hauora and the model of health te whare tapa whā .

Use examples as evidence to support your answers.

Achieved	Achieved with Merit	Achieved with Excellence
Demonstrate understanding of decision-making in a health-related situation	Explain decision-making in a health-related situation	Evaluate decision-making in a health-related situation
The Learner is able to: ☐ Describe factors relevant to the decision-making and possible consequences of a health-related situation. ☐ Describe a proposed decision in response to the health related situation, in relation to hauora, with reference to the factors and anticipated consequences of the decision.	The Learner is able to: ☐ Discuss why the factors and anticipated consequences are significant to the proposed decision. ☐ Explain how the factors and anticipated consequences interrelate to influence the proposed decision, in relation to hauora.	The Learner is able to: ☐ Draw conclusions about the significance of the decision making in response to the health-related situation, in relation to hauora.